

DR. J. DAVID CRUM VISION GRANT

Working with Augusta, Douglass and Rose Hill schools to identify and treat at-risk students with vision problems.

Overview

One in five children entering kindergarten each year will have a vision problem that may affect his or her ability to learn. By high school graduation, this number climbs to more than 30 percent. Many of these learning-related vision problems may hinder a child's ability to perform to his or her academic potential and could lead to self-esteem issues and behavior problems.

The Dr. J. David Crum Vision Grant

An important provision of state law requires legislators to donate any balance in their campaign account to charity upon retirement from office. To help address the above stated issues in the 77th district, Representative Dr. J. David Crum is donating the balance of his campaign account to the See To Learn Foundation to help students with vision problems in the Augusta, Douglass and Rose Hill schools. Funding is targeted at assisting students who have a vision problem but may not have insurance or the financial means for an eye health and vision exam or treatment. Preference for funding for the eye examinations will be for students eligible for free and reduced lunches. A limited number of grants will be available each year. For students exhibiting subnormal vision, the Foundation will work with the KanLovKids Program to coordinate care and will work within the KanLovKids established guidelines. A representative of the See to Learn Foundation will contact each of the schools to let them know about the availability of the funds as well as the application process.
